CVSN Welcomes Northwood Graduate, Emphasizing Commitment to Next-Generation Leadership in the Commercial Vehicle Aftermarket Industry

[Austin, TX – January 13, 2025] – The Commercial Vehicle Solutions Network (CVSN) proudly announces the addition of Grace Nowakowski to the team as Administrative Assistant. Grace, a recent graduate of Northwood University, joins CVSN as part of the organization’s ongoing mission to foster young talent and strengthen the future of the independent commercial vehicle aftermarket industry.

Grace brings a robust academic foundation in business administration, graduating cum laude from Northwood University, along with hands-on professional experience. Her roles at Cintas Corporation and MLR Healthcare highlight her ability to manage operations, build relationships, and lead initiatives that align seamlessly with CVSN’s goals.

“Grace is an exemplary addition to our team and a testament to CVSN’s commitment to welcoming and cultivating young professionals in the commercial vehicle aftermarket,” said Edward Kuo, CVSN Executive Director. “Her education at Northwood University, an institution renowned for its aftermarket programs, and her professional achievements make her a valuable asset in our mission to serve the industry’s evolving needs.”

CVSN has partnered with Northwood University of the Aftermarket to develop programs that attract and nurture the next generation of leaders in the commercial vehicle sector. By hiring a Northwood graduate, CVSN reaffirms its dedication to these efforts, ensuring that innovation and expertise continue to drive the industry forward.

Grace will play a key role in CVSN's initiatives, including member engagement, event support, and strategic development. As a passionate advocate for the industry, she looks forward to contributing to CVSN's mission and creating a lasting impact on the aftermarket community.
